

California Biodiversity Council

Regional Meeting

June 8, 2000

Officer's Club, Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton

Challenges Facing Military Installations in California:
Biodiversity Stewardship and the Military Training/Operations Mission

8:00 AM	Registration
8:30	Welcome/Council Announcements
	Executive Committee Report
9:00	CBC Watershed Work Group Update
9:30	"Status of the Base:" Film on training at Camp Pendleton
9:45	Stewardship of Camp Pendleton's Natural and Cultural Resources: Lupe Armas, Assistant Chief of Staff for Environmental Security
10:00	Coffee Break
10:30	Challenges to Combat Readiness in the Western Region—Course to Conflict: Colonel David G. Linnebur, Program Officer, Office of the Western Regional Environmental Coordinator, MCB Camp Pendleton
11:00	Panel Discussion: Mary Nichols, Secretary of Resources Elsie Munsell, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Environment & Safety Major General Ed Hanlon, Commanding General, MCB Camp Pendleton Major General William Bowdon, Commanding General, Marine Corps Air Station— Miramar
11:45	Lunch
12:45	Presentation of the Harvard Study on biodiversity and landscape planning at Camp Pendleton* Speakers: Dr. David Mouat, Division of Earth and Ecosystem Sciences, Desert Research Institute, Reno, Nevada; and Allan Shearer, Landscape Architecture, Graduate School of Design, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts
2:00	Panel Discussion—Santa Margarita Watershed: Santa Margarita River Overview and Status: Larry McKenney, Director, Office of Water Resources, MCB Camp Pendleton Kristi Lovelady, Administrative Manager, County of Riverside, TLMA Regulatory and Planning Challenges: John Robertus, Executive Officer, CA Water Quality Control Board, San Diego Region
3:00	Adjourn

* The study can be found on the Internet at: <http://www.gsd.harvard.edu/publications/biodiversity.htm>